Poetical.

The Origin of the Shamrock.

St. Patrick sat in a field of clover
Pondering how to make pagans think,
And as he was turning the problem over
A Bee climbed out from the blossoms pink.

"What dost thou here?" said the Saint to the Bee.
Said the Bee to the Saint: "Tis my busy way,
To plunge head-first in the flowery sea,
That heaves in the breeze of the Summer day."

"What find'st thou there?" said the Saint to the Bee.
Said the Bee to the Saint; "There be fairy bowers
Down 'mid the roots of the clover tree,
Where elves weave charms out of three-leaved flowers."

"What can a three-leaved flower do
To spell-bind men?" said the Saint to the Bee;
"Can there be stronger than three and two,
Like this five-foiled sprig I hold on my knee?"

Said the Bee to the Saint: "Now lend an ear
To words that honey to you shall be,
For I am the queen of the fairies here
And your thoughts are as plain as noon to me.

"Sad is your heart, and grieved your mind,
Because the work that you've begun,
Vainly you strive a type to find
That tells of the mighty Three in One.

"Yet down in the nooks of the shady dells,
Where mosses mould and cowslips blow,
And snails are safe in their painted shells,
The symbol of Three in One doth grow.

"A little trefoil with pale green leaves
That hides itself from the light of day,
Under the web that the spider weaves,
And fairies call it the shamrock spray.

"Gather the little silent plant—
Silent in voice, though its leaves can preach;
And three-on-one-stem will the minds enchant
Of the people you have come to teach."

And thus it was that St. Patrick found
The symbol with which men's hearts he won,
In a tiny plant which cleaves to the ground
But whose leaves are the book of Three in One.

VIOLET.

"Miss Violet, will you give this letter to Mrs. Maltby?"

I had my hands full of drawing materials, but I received the letter, and continued on my way to Mrs. Maltby's dressing room.

The drawings were little studies I had made while down at the seaside, where I had spent my vacation, made for Mrs. Maltby—to whom I had been companion for a year—and Mrs. Maltby had been interested in them, saying: "Touch them up a bit, Violet, and I will get a portfolio for them and keep them." I usually sat with her in her dressing room through the mornings, and thither I now repaired to touch up the drawings.

I gave her the letter, and went to a low seat in the deep bay-window. I sharpened a pencil, and then happened to glance toward my companion.

Her face was ashy white. The letter was clenched in her hand. I had brought her bad news.

I was shocked, but silent. I tried to remember what I knew of her family relations. She was a handsome, black-haired women of fifty, who had been early widowed, and returned to her father's house. Her parents were dead. Her mother had died in her infancy, and she had been the mistress of Redburn ever since. It was not long, however, since her father's decease. She had never had a child. She had no brothers or sisters whom I had ever heard of.

I saw her burn the letter, and then she rose and left the room.

A week passed. They were quiet and comfortable, but rather monotonous weeks at Redburn.

We had company to dine. I was dressing her hair, as I sometimes did. Suddenly, without knocking or warning, the door was flung open, and a young man walked in.

I felt Mrs. Maltby start under my hands. I, myself, was frightened, the intruder looked so bold and reckless.

He was very handsome, but he looked to me to have been traveling long, or to have come out of some revel.

Mrs. Maltby did not speak to him. He seated himself before, and not far from her, however.

"Go on, Violet," she said.

"Certainly. Let the young lady proceed with her task," he said. "What I have to say need not interfere with her employment. I understand that she is your companion and confidante, though I have not had the pleasure of meeting her before.

"You refused me," he said, in a far different tone from that in which he had first spoken.

"Certainly," she answered.

"Do you want my blood upon your head?" he exclaimed.

"I washed my hands clear of you long ago," she answered, composedly.

He got up, and commenced walking the floor.

"I tell you, Winfred, I must have this money," he said. "I must have it, and to night."

Mrs. Maltby was silent. I caught a glimpse of her face. Flint was not harder.

"Let me have it, Winfred," he said, pausing before her; "and I promise it shall be the last time."

She made no reply.

"The last time. I mean it, Winfred. His voice faltered. She did not speak.

"Will you?"

"No," she replied, with no emotion "I told you, more than a year ago, that I should pay no more debts of yours. I meant it; you knew that I meant it. I have given you fair warning. I shall not change. I have done my duty by you, Guy—you know that I have."

"Yes, you have been just—but you have never been merciful," he replied. "Oh, God!" He flung up his arms with a bitter cry, that wrung my heart.

I looked at her. No, she did not relent or go to him. He had flung himself into a chair, and with his head dropped, his arms folded upon the back, was the most hopeless figure I had ever seen.

He gave a groan, and started up suddenly. He remained but a moment longer. Wrapping his cloak about him, he gave her one look of reproach, and left the room. I looked wistfully at her; she did not speak to me, and I, too, went away.

She was ill the next day, but on the day following she appeared much as usual.

Of all that I thought and felt I, of course, said nothing. The matter was no affair of mine. I understood that the two were brother and sister—that the young man was named Guy Sedley—that he was dissolute and in disgrace, that Mrs. Maltby had taken care of him in boyhood, but now ignored the relationship. I was in no way allowed to learn any more.

But on the second night I was awakened by a light shining into my chamber.

It was something unusual, for the little cloak on the mantle was chiming twelve.

After a moment I slipped out of bed and glided toward the door. The long, embroidered folds of my night dress tripped me, but I made no noise with my bare feet on the deep velvet of the carpet. I don't know what I expected to see—certainly not Guy Sedley, kneeling before a sandal wood chest, with papers strewn around him on the floor. A taper, burning in its silver sconce upon the wall, showed his face perfectly cool as he went on searching for something.

He must have come through my room to reach this apartment, for it had no opening but into my chamber. I was aware that the papers in the chest were valuable—that there was money placed there. I saw that he was robbing his sister.

I saw, too, a dirk knife on the floor, close at his side.

I looked at him an instant—then glided forward, snatched the knife, and leapt back to the door.

I was mistress of the situation, for I had come from behind him, done all as in a flash of light, and as he rose to his feet I stood with my back to the door, with a calmness that showed it was not my intention to immediately arouse the house.

With a presence of mind equal to my own, he put the roll of bills he had been searching for into the fob of his waistcoat, and with a glittering eye regarded me speculatively. I was petite, and I had not screamed. I know now, that he was not much afraid of me.

"You have been robbing your sister," I said, "but if you will put the money back I will let you go."

His intent attention of me changed to a look of wonder.

"You child, are you not afraid of me?" he asked.

"No," I answered, truthfully.

"I watched you in your sleep, a moment ago, debating whether it were necessary to kill you or not."

"You must have been glad to find that it was not necessary. Put the money back," I said.

"No," he said firmly. "I will murder you first."

"Do not do that," said I, ' I am your friend. I was sorry for you that day.'

He did not speak, but a troubled look disturbed the pale fixedness of his face.

"How much money have you there?"

"One hundred dollars."

"And you need it very much?"

"Very much," he replied, with a bitter smile.

"Please put it back," I said. "She has been just to you, I would like to be merciful. I will give you the money."

"You?"

"I have it—yes—have it in my room. Let me show you."

I flung open the door, went to my writing desk, and came back.

"These I will give you freely." I said, opening the roll. "You said to her that it should be the last time, and I hope—"

He had taken the bills into his hand, looking at them in a kind of unbelieving way.

"You may hope that you have saved me," he said, in a low voice.

We were silent for a moment.

"You know now that I was very sorry for you," I said with tears in my eyes.

"Yes," he said gravely," and I love you for it."

He put Mrs. Maltby's money back and re-arranged the chest. I began to listen, nervously, for voices about the house, but all was very still. He locked the chest and gave me the key.

"You know where it is kept?"

"Yes in a drawer in her dressing room." I wonder how he had got it, "Hurry and get away."

"There is no danger; I paved my way carefully. Pure, brave girl, careless you are for yourself!"

He looked at me earnestly, as if he wished to carry away a clear memory of my features, then wrapped his cloak about him, flung up the sash, and leaped soundlessly out into the darkness.

I extinguished the taper and crept back to bed. I did not hear a sound about the house until daylight.

A year later I was the mistress of Redburn; the beautiful house, the spacious grounds were all mine. Mrs. Maltby had died and bequeathed them to me.

I was young; I was fond of gayety; I had now the means at my disposal. Every summer my house was filled with guests. In the winter I was in New York or abroad.

Three years passed. I had never heard a word of Guy Sedley, when, one day the Bromleys, of New York, who were coming to visit me, asked leave to bring a friend; I extended the solicited invitation, and Guy Sedley came.

It was a shock, but he gave no token of the past. Reclaimed from his errors, he was so refined and manly that he was the most distinguished of my guests

I loved him, but I thought, "he must hate me, usurper of his estate. He is poor because I have his patrimony. I have no right to Redburn, and I will not keep it. I will give it back to him."

An opportunity came. He was sitting on the terrace one bright evening. I went and took a seat near him.

"How lovely this view is!" he exclaimed, pointing toward the distant hills.

"Yes, and you shall wish for your right no longer, Mr. Sedley. Redburn is yours, I have no claim to it."

He did not speak, and I went on:

"Your sister was just; and she would have made you the heir if she had lived to see you what you are to-day."

"But it was your mercy, not her justice, Miss Seeley, that saved me. Violet, I love you, and I will take Redburn with your hand, not else."

I put my hand in his, trusting him, loving him utterly, and proud, very proud, to make him the master of Redburn.

Those Feet.

The late Elder John Smith, of Kentucky, who died recently at an advanced age, was one of the most eccentric wits south of the Ohio river, and a true gentleman. He was familiarly known throughout Kentucky and the West by the sobriquet of "Raccoon Smith." While still in the Baptist ministry, and attending one of the annual meetings of the body, a tall, lank, green specimen of humanity presented himself before the Association as a candidate for the ministry. He was regarded as being not entirely of sound mind, and labored under the hallucination that he was especially "called to preach," and kept constantly importuning the association to grant him the necessary license. In addition to his partially unbalanced mind, young Weeks was the possessor of as huge and ungainly a pair of feet as ever trod shoe leather. Tired of his importunities, and not being disposed to grant the license, the Association handed him over to Smith, with instructions to make an end of the case, and between them took place the following conversation:

Smith—"So Brother Weeks, you think you have a splendid call to preach?"

Weeks—"Yes, the Lord has called me to the work, but the Association refuses the license."

Smith—"How do you know that you are called?".

Weeks—" Know it? I feel it in my heart of hearts. I want my license."

Smith—" Do you believe the Bible, Brother Weeks?"

Weeks—"Certainly I do, every word of it."

Smith—"Well, if I can prove by the Bible that you are not called to preach, will you be satisfied to drop the matter nor further importune the Association for a license?"

Brother Weeks assented to this, and "Raccoon Smith" deliberately opened the New Testament at Romans, x, 15, and in a grave tone read:

"How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace," etc. then glancing at Weeks' large feet, remarked:

"You see, Brother Weeks, that the feet of the preacher are beautiful; you, sir, have the most monstrous ugly feet of any man in the State of Kentucky; therefore, by this Bible, it is clear that you have not been especially called."

As Smith finished his remarks, the entire Association went off in a paroxysm of laughter, and Weeks, really concluding that he had not been "called," bolted from the meeting house, and never afterward annoyed the Association for license."

Singular Whisky Phenomena.

The La Crosse, Wis., Democrat tells the following: It appears that Mr. Fifield has been troubled with a fearful cold, which settled on his lungs, and his friends held a consultation and decided to give the gallant Sergeant an old-fashioned sweat. He was wrapped in a blanket and placed upon a cane seat chair, and about a pint of whisky put under the chair, and a match touched to the whisky.

It is evident that too much confidence had been placed in the fact that Madison whisky was never before known to burn; but, singularly as it may seem, this particular whisky did burn, and Mr. Fifield, with his well known astuteness, discovered the fact as soon as anybody. Without stopping to argue with his friends as to the singular phenomenon, Mr. Fifield arose as one man, and with his hand on his heart, thanked the audience for the warm and genial manner in which he had been received, kicked the chair over, and jumped up.

He jumped well, but it is said that if the ceiling had been higher, he would have increased his leap at least eight feet. On his return to earth his elocutionary powers were brought into requisition, and he made a speech that in blistering sarcasm and burning pathos has never had its equal in the annals of legislative experience.

Dr. Woolcott was telegraphed for from Milwaukee and came by special train, but gave it as his opinion that amputation would not be necessary. The party with whom Mr. Fifield boards, the telegraph informs us, has raised the price of Sam's board three dollars a week, because it is necessary to set the table for him on the mantlepiece.

THE AGES OF THE PRESIDENTS.—As so many of the young men of to-day are hoping and striving to achieve greatness and possibly aspire to hold high places in the land, it may be of interest, if not positively consoling, to know that those who have held the noblest position, known to our form of government, attained it late in life. Particularly is this true of President Harrison, who was the oldest of the Presidents, being sixty-seven years of age when he was elected. That courtly and elegant old gentleman, President Buchanan was sixty-five when he became Chief Magistrate, and next to him in point of years, vas Zachary Taylor the hero of Buena Vista, and the eleventh President of the United States. John Adams, Washington's successor, was sixty-one, as also was Andrew Jackson, and both Madison and Monroe and also John Quincy Adams were fifty-eight when they attained presidential honors. Washington, Jefferson and Martin Van Buren were each fifty-seven and James K. Polk was forty-nine. Franklin Pierce was next to the youngest, being forty-eight, while the present incumbent, U. S. Grant, was forty-seven at the time of his inauguration. Of the three Vice-Presidents, Tyler, Fillmore and Johnson, the former was fifty-one, the latter fifty-nine, and Mr. Fillmore was fifty.

"Nothing in the Paper."

The Richmond Examiner, has a spicy chapter on the subject of newspaperr, elicited by the sterotyped remark of indifferent readers after scanning the "miniature world" of daily issue of news, that "there's nothing in the paper." It says. "And men are always grumbling about their papers, and insinuating how much better they could do it. They talk as flippantly about "fine articles" on every imaginable subject as if they could effect such a change. Let some of these over running philosophers try it for one hundred and fifty days in succession. And then they think it is nothing to "select" for a newspaper, you have merely to run the scissors through a half dozen exchanges, and you have got matter enough. Now this is the most important, and the most difficult department to fill on a newspaper. Very few men have the slightest idea how to do such work. It requires a thorough newspaper man—who knows the public appetite well—who knows what is going on in the world—and who knows how to re-write and pack a column into a dozen lines. Men who skim a newspaper and toss it aside little reflect how much brains and toil have been expended in serving up that meal. Busy heads and busy hands have been toiling all day to gather and prepare those viands, and some vast building has been lit from cellar to garret all night to get the paper ready for the newsboy by crack of dawn. "Nothing in your heads, that's what's the matter."

GOOD ADVICE.—We were sitting with Horace one afternoon, says Don Piatt, in that little disreputable sanctum of his adjoining the counting-room of the Tribune. The old gentleman was in one of his chronic conditions of grumble and discontent. He had that mealy appearance so common to him, that made him resemble a blonde miller fresh from the dust of his flour mill, and was expressing his private opinion in a public and somewhat profane way, when a colored gentleman was announced. "Let him come in," roared the philosopher, and an aged darkey, clad in broadcloth gold rimmed spectacles, and a cane headed with the same precious metal, stalked in.

"Mister Greeley, I believe?" he inquired.

"Yes, I'm Mister Greeley; what do you want?" was the gruff response.

"Well, sah," said old Ebony Specks, seating himself as he deposited his hat and cane on the floor—"Well, sah, I've been thinkin' that our race don't pay enough attention to scientific pursuits, sah."

We saw the cloud gather on the intellectual countenance of the great journalistic Bohemian. It broke in thunder at that point. In a voice wherein were blended the shrill tones of a hysterical woman and the growl of a tiger, he exclaimed:

"Scientific pursuits! you old fool! You want a hoe handle and patch of New Jersey—that's the scientific pursuits you want. Get out!"

NOT VOUCHED FOR!—A gentleman in Savin Hill, Mass., has recently imported from Europe a selection of poultry noted not only for their serviceable and game qualities, but also for their remarkable intelligence. At the sound of a bell they skip up a ladder, and, while awaiting their meal on the second floor, preserve the utmost decorum, standing in file, awaiting further orders. The meal being placed before them one at a time, is considered inviolate until all are served, and even then they remain abstinent until a second sound of the bell gives the signal. During the meal there is no interference with each other's portion; tho utmost propriety is observed, and, as each finishes his repast, he stands quietly awaiting the the bell which announces that the meal is over, when, in military style, the fowls proceed in single file down the ladder to disport themselves as they please.

SOME DISCOUNT.—One pleasant morning some two or three years ago, says the Hartford Times, a party of gentlemen were standing on the steps of the Tremont House, in Boston, enjoying their cigars, when they noticed a country looking chap riding a slim, mangy horse up and down the street in front of the hotel, apparently trying to attract the attention of the group. One of them says: "I'll bet that fellow has a horse for sale, we'll see." Presently along he came, showing his beast, and was accosted with "I say, is that animal for sale."

"Well—y-a-a-s,—I might be induced to part with him; but he is a mighty likely critter." "Is he sound?" "Sound as a bullet." "Can he trot?" "Trot! Well he can. He can just mock a trotter." "How fast can he go?" "How fast? Well he can go in four minutes; and he would go faster if he could. He'd love-ter!" "What is your price for him?" "Five hundred." Well, I don't want a horse, but I'll give five dollars for him." "Stranger he's yourn. But that's a blazin' discount."

A member of the editorial staff of the Cleveland Leader, it is said, has invented a sheet-iron cat, with cylindrical attachment and steel claws and teeth. It is worked by clock-work. A bellows inside swells up the tail at will to a beligerent size, and, by a tremolo attachment, causes, at the same time, the patent cat to emit all noises of which the living cat is capable. When you want fun, you wind up your cat and place him on the roof. Every cat within half a mile hears him, girds on his armor and sallies forth. Frequently fifty or a hundred attack him at once. No sooner does the patent cat feel the weight of an assailant than his teeth and claws work with lightning rapidity. Adversaries within six feet of him are torn to shreds. Fresh battalions come on to meet a similar fate, and in an hour several bushels of hair, toe nails, and fiddle-strings alone remain.

A MAN is usually refused credit for one of two reasons—either because we don't know him, or because we do.

Bradford Politics.

The refusal of Governor Geary to sign the Congressional Apportionment bill ties us for another term at least to Bradford county. The Republican nominee for Congress however will undoubtedly come from either Columbia or Montour. Bradford county has monopolized this office for the past ten years and now has the nominee for the Supreme Court and cannot with any fairness claim the nomination. Who the lucky man will be we are unable to determine, but the choice seems to be between Robison of Bloomsburg and M. W. Jackson, of Berwick.

We are more interested, however, in seeing whom they will nominate for Legislature. Their members of last session seemed to have no earthly ambition except to defeat Herdic's pet project of the new county of Minnequa. In order more surely to accomplish this both Senate and House Committees on Counties and County seats was packed. Fitch, their Senator, was made chairman of the Senate Committee and placed on the same committee. In the House, Buck of Bradford was made chairman of the House Committee and Beardsley, Mitchell, Wilson, Noyes and Brockway were made members because they all came from adjoining counties and were supposed to be interested against the proposed division.

Their fears of Herdic, however, did not prevent the Bradford members from doing his dirty work in the House and it is notorious that in all the stages of the outrageous boom question they either voted with him or dodged the the question. As the new county question was not pressed by Herdic this may have been a compromise.

The only other bill which they succeeded in getting passed and for which they deserve thanks of their constituents was the one to authorize their District Attorney Capt. Reeves to act as Judge of the election at Athens this Fall. The captain it seems did not know that the office of district attorney and judge of election were incompatible and as it would seem that no one else in Athens was competent to perform that arduous duty Legislative interference was invoked and after a desperate struggle the bill passed. True if any ballot stuffing occurs in that district this fall Capt. Reeves may be placed in a quandary about indicting himself, but another bill through the Legislature would undoubtedly obviate the difficulty.

REFORM in politics can only come from the elements that compose the Republican party—the moral, intelligent and Christian people of this country.—Press.

There it is, the old insolent assumption of morality and decency which the records of ten years have proved do not exist in the Republican party.

In the face of official corruption the like of which was never known before in this country; with a host of dishonest revenue collectors; with bayonet rule and flagrant disregard of existing laws; with arbitrary and unjust oppression of citizens both North and South; with legislation outside of the Constitution; with burdensome taxation and with a hundred instances of Executive incapability and personal interference at once illegal and undignified, the organs of this party of hypocrisy and fraud have the audacity to claim for the organization that purity of purpose and deed which its whole career proves false. Nothing like it has ever appeared in political history.

It is marvelous that this party so outrageously corrupt that its ablest and best men have left it in disgust should yet take refuge under the banner of "God and Morality." The Press whilst writing under the rotten nominations at Harrisburg and the exposure of the rank dishonesty which characterized the election in the Fourth Senatorial District can still find time to abuse the corruptions of the Democracy.

Can the Press hope to convince men of ordinary intelligence, even, that a party which can persecute a people for imaginary Ku Klux enormities, which exist only in the too desirous minds of selfish office-seekers, and condone the gigantic peculations which have bankrupted whole States, is the one to lead them in the ways of righteous welldoing. We doubt it.

It will require stronger evidence than the utterance of partisan organs to convince the people that New York contains all the thieves of the country and that all those thieves are Democrats. The time may come when the people will know how much this administration has cost them and it is more than probable that the figures will prove very uncomfortable to many of those Christian Statesmen of the "loyal" stamp who have cried most loudly against the dishonesty of the Democrats.

HAVING furnished in last week's COLUMBIAN the opinions of the Republican press as regards the nomination of Hartranft, we now give the following from Forney's Press as to Allen the nominee for Auditor General:

So general is the dissatisfaction in regard to the nomination of Col. Harrison Allen, of Warren, by our late State Convention, as the Republican candidate for Auditor General, that his retirement from the Republican ticket is pronounced to be essential to success in October. Our own objections to General Hartranft having been so sternly criticised by some of our brethren, it may perhaps propitiate these gentlemen to state that the appeal for the retirement of Col. Allen is most earnestly made by some of those who most earnestly support General Hartranft. The objections to Col. Allen are best known to those who make them.

We simply refer to the demand for his retirement from the State ticket as an admonition and a fact. Let us not fear that the discussion of even regularly nominated candidates can injure the Republican party. Nobody denies that the late Republican Convention committed grave mistakes, and our failure to point them out will make them fatal. There is full time to correct and cure them; better to meet them and to master them in advance than blindly to enter upon the Presidential struggle and go down under their sheer dead weight.

THE Hartford Courant says: "He who thinks that a party can hold its supremacy in a government which is run by men like Conkling, Norton, Carpenter, Chandler and Nye, with statesmen like Sumner, Trumbull and Schurz protesting and proscribed, must be more sanguine than the average of people."

The Next Legislature.

The lower House of the present Legislature is composed of 62 Republicans and 38 Democrats. This result was a matter of great surprise to both parties, as the present apportionment bill was a compromise between a Republican House and a Democratic Senate. The intention was to give the Republicans a majority in the House of six. By prudent and popular nominations this fall the Democrats can secure a much larger representation; in fact, in the present condition of political affairs in this State then is no just reason why they should not have a majority in the House. We should gain members in the following counties which are unquestionably Democratic, Luzerne, Schuylkill, Montour, Bucks, Cambria, Elk and Cameron, and two additional from Philadelphia. Green will undoubtedly be reelected from Warren, in place of Short, who was fraudulently awarded the seat. Franklin is also naturally a Democratic county, and should send a Democratic representative. With these gains the House would stand 52 Republicans and 48 Democrats. We believe also that the Democrats can carry one member in Union and Snyder in place of Herrold, who prostituted his official position by selling an appointment for $100 of which fact he was openly charged in the House by a Republican colleague and by his silence tacitly admitted its truth. In consequence the House was compelled to pay another man for services which he never rendered. The notorious corruption of other Republican members will undoubtedly lead to the defeat of some of them and thereby give us control of the next Legislature.

We are taking it for granted that the Democrats will nominate only honest and pure men; with such we can win and all others ought to be defeated.

The World sums up a portion of the record of the Radicals as follows:

"On the reconstruction of the South the following Radical Governors were counted in: Holden, in North Carolina; Scott, in South Carolina; Bullock, in Georgia; Reed, in Florida, Smith, in Alabama; Alcorn, in Mississippi; Warmouth, in Louisiana; Clayton, in Arkansas, and Davis, in Texas. Of these nine worthies one was impeached, another ran away to escape impeachment, a third is now under articles of impeachment, and a fourth and fifth are under indictment from United States grand juries.

If the Secretary of the Treasury has no worthier defence of his policy of hoarding gold than that offered in the House of Representatives on Saturday, the least said about it the better. It is urged that he has, by keeping on hand a great surplus of coin, been able to check a fictitious rise in gold, and has facilitated a return to specie payments. It may be well to plead this, but the fact, is that the Secretary has not checked speculations in gold, nor is he, apparently, any nearer a resumption of specie payments than a year ago. And there is over $120,000,000 of gold in the Treasury.

The Case of Greene.

A violent display of sectarian hatred has been caused by the attempted assassination last week of a certain E. Greene, a teacher in one of the public schools in Centralia, Pennsylvania. It appears that he had become peculiarly obnoxious on religious grounds to the Roman Catholic citizens, who tried unsuccessfully to have him removed from his position. Immediately after this failure, he was attacked, while alone with one pupil in his school-house, by three men, mercilessly beaten, one ear cut off, and left in so mangled a condition that it is improbable he will recover. The assassination is of course charged by the Protestants upon the Romish Church, and the feud waxes bitter as it only can in an inland religious village. The Protestants are, we are told, flying from the town for their lives; the "days of the Inquisition are "to be revived among us. The bigotry "of the Papal Church has been crushed "at home only to waken more savagely "in free America." Now, it seems to us, there is a great deal of wasted zeal in this matter. In the first place, it is by no means certain that the assassination of Greene had anything to do with his religious quarrel. Even if it be proved that the ruffians who thus beat the man were animated by what they deemed religious zeal, it does not follow that the priests in Centralia either instigated or were cognizant of the attempted murder. No Protestant Church would hold itself responsible for the acts of every ignorant ruffian who seized upon its creed as a cloak for his brutality. The Roman Catholic Church has a majority, unfortunately, of such men in her fold, at least nominally, who grow more vehement in their devotion to her communion the less they know about it. It is her misfortune and her fault, no doubt, that after generations of pupilage such men remain among her representatives, but it is unjust to say that they do represent her real teachings.

Besides, such an outrage is far more to be dreaded by the Catholic Church than the Protestant. Whatever other virtue we may see fit to deny her priesthood, they are usually men of the world, quick, subtle, sensible, who never fail to see what is expedient, and to sacrifice all personal feeling for the advancement of their faith. What would the satisfaction of killing one poor teacher weigh against the damning force with which each stab and blow would react against the bosom of Holy Mother Church? A little cool reflection and common sense would probably tend to lessen the wild alarm with which Protestants are apt to look forward to future encroachments of the Catholic Church. The "Scarlet Woman," as some of them call her, is enveloped in all the horrors, the cruelties, the martyrdoms of the dark ages. They forget that human nature when it had temporal power proved just as tyrannical, just as murderous, in a Church-of-England surplice or a Covenanter's shovel-hat as when it wore tiara or mitre. If the Papal Church drank deeper drafts of blood than the others, it may have been because it had more time in which to drink. Besides, whatever may be our opinion of the natural disposition of this ancient lion, it is certain that now his nails are effectually clipped and his teeth drawn. Were he ever so willing, the days of kneeling kings and excommunicated princes have gone by. Civilization will never in all probability again permit the rise of any great religious hierarchy.

However the Catholic Church may retain vitality as a form and vehicle of religious faith, it is contrary to all common sense to suppose that it can ever attain temporal power in this country. No party or sect who through its head places itself in avowed opposition to the progressive spirit of the nineteenth century, can make headway in a nation through which progress wears its most defiant and aggressive shape. A moment's consideration, too, of the feebleness of their opponents should teach Protestant sects forbearance and good-humored charity. The policy of the priesthood has been, we are told in alarm, to accumulate a vast amount of real estate, with the ulterior purpose of bringing the Pope to this country. Property neither confers political power, it should be remembered, nor promulgates an unpopular creed; and we doubt if Pio Nono or any future successor of St. Peter will risk removing the glamor of ancient Italy from about him, and appear as an American citizen voting for Mayor and town officers in an office suit of cheviot. We confess we are impatient with this perpetual outcry of terror about the encroachments of any church. The Methodists alone in Virginia and Georgia, when the last census was taken, numbered nearly double the whole of the Catholics in the United States. Under these circumstances surely the Protestants have no cause for alarm. —Tribune.

The Essential Points of Reform.

The efforts to expel fear by loud whistling, which the Administration has been making in reference to the Cincinnati movement, do not appear to have yielded that confidence in its position which invariably accompanies a stable consciousness of strength. Where there was an affectation of indifference, and even of contempt, yesterday, there is an ill-concealed apprehension of serious danger to-day. Grant is not so sure of his case as he was. It now looks more favorable than ever for a nomination at Cincinnati, upon a platform containing the five essential points of liberal reform—the Constitution, revenue reform, general amnesty, civil service reform and local self-government. On such a platform, with judiciously chosen candidates, there is a strong hope of terminating the present deplorable and dangerous condition of things within the brief term of another year.

The Press (Philadelphia) well says:

"The stern purpose of the patriotism of the country must not be relaxed until life and liberty are secure in every township of the South—until every acre of its rich soil shall bloom with the prosperity of free labor".

Good! capital! excellent! But, neighbor, suppose the villains who run the government of South Carolina (for instance) in the abused and disgraced name of Republicanism, persist in stealing more every year than the surplus product of this "free labor," so as to sink the people deeper and deeper into debt in spite of their best exertions, what do you purpose to do about it?—N. Y. Tribune.

A REPORT having been circulated that Senator Schurz was in default to the Treasury to the amount of $6,000, on account of his mission to Spain, he called upon the Fifth Auditor and ascertained that his account, like many others, was kept open because the last six months of his salary had not been receipted for, and a small item of contingent expenses had not been certified by the legation in the usual form, and that instead of Senator Schurz being in default to the government a balance is still due him from the government.

THE Washington Patriot estimates the stealings of Grant's administration —from data furnished by Mr. Garfield and the report of the civil service commission—at $125,000,000 per annum, making a total of $375,000,000 in three years. The Courier-Journal observes that this stealing would have been larger, but, then we must remember that there wasn't anything more to steal.

A WASHINGTONIAN has been fined $5 for damning President Grant. If a similar penalty for the same offence could be enforced throughout the country, the national debt might be liquidated in forty-eight hours, and an immense surplus revenue accumulated.

CONGRESS.

In the Senate on Wednesday of last week a number of bills were passed among them one appropriating $20,000 for the observation of the transit of Venus.

In the House there was an interesting discussion on the question of preserving the public woods and of giving encouragement to the planting of trees throughout the country. The bill went over. Mr. Banks secured the postponement of the bill to carry out the provisions of the Treaty of Washington. The Civil-service Reform bill was discussed and went over.

Mr. Sumner gave notice in the Senate on Thursday of last week that when the Amnesty bill comes up he will move as an amendment the Supplemental Civil Rights bill. The business of the session was unimportant.

In the House the bill to incorporate the Great Salt Lake and Colorado River Railroad Company and to grant it right of way through the public lands was taken up and passed.

The Postal Appropriation bill was reported in the Senate on Friday last. As amended it doubles for ten years the mail service and subsidy of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company between San Francisco and China, so as to provide for a fortnightly trip.

There was a lively debate in the House over the Civil service Reform bill which was finally re-committed by a vote of 96 to 79.

A message from the President in regard to Ku-Klux outrages in South Carolina was laid before the House. More than one Representative challenged the correctness of the statement it contained.

In the Senate on Saturday Mr. Scott moved to take up the House bill to repeal the duty on tea and coffee. Mr. Trumbull moved to amend so as to repeal the duty on salt and coal. At the expiration of the morning hour the Texas Pacific Railroad bill came up, and after a debate was passed.

In the Senate on Monday an attempt was made by Senator Scott to pass the House bill repealing the duty on tea and coffee, but it failed owing to the absence of Mr. Sherman, chairman of the Finance Committee.

In the House Mr. Wood introduced a bill to prevent the expansion and contraction of the money market, and Mr. Maynard a still longer substitute for the long Internal Revenue bill reported from the Ways and Means. A resolution calling on the President for the correspondence with Great Britain regarding the claim for indirect damages on the American case was adopted.

In the Senate, on Tuesday, the resolution giving Mr. Abbott the contested seat from North Carolina was defeated.

In the House, the Committee on Military Affairs was invested with power to investigate the ab straction of the records of the Buell court-martial from the War Department.

Seven thousand shocks have occurred to date. Huge rocks were hurled down the Yosemite Valley, destroying many noble trees. Immense waves rolled up the Gulf of California.

A meeting was held in the Cooper Institute New York, on Wednesday to keep Mr. Grant's name before the public as a candidate. Speeches were made by Messrs. Sickles, Wilson, Morton, and others. There was little enthusiasm felt or expressed, unless when the names of Messrs. Greeley and Trumbull were mentioned.

The resignation of George J. Stannard, United States Collector of Customs at Burlington, Vt., is announced. It is the old, old story of Radical officials—a trifling mistake in his accounts of $46,000.

Bismarck has sent an ultimatum that the French army shall be forthwith reduced to 225,000 men, and hints that in case of refusal it will be necessary for Germany to establish a French Government which Germany can trust.

The trestle work on the Broad Top Railroad at Stonerstown, Bedford county, was completely destroyed by the high winds which prevailed on Wednesday last, 17th inst. The trestle work was nearly a mile long, and about ninety-five feet high.

An unparalleled story of lawlessness and murder comes from Indian Territory. Pending the trial of one Proctor, a notorious murderer, a posse of eleven deputy marshals was sent to the court house to await the result of the trial, and in case of acquittal to arrest the prisoner on other charges. On their approach the friends of the prisoner fired upon them, and a general fight ensued both within and without the court house. The result was that of the marshal's force seven out of the eleven were killed and three others were missing. Of the assailants only three were killed. Sixteen or seventeen persons were wounded, some mortally. The sheriff was killed, and the judge wounded.

AN ORDINANCE

For the establishing of a Curbstone Market.

Be it ordained and enacted by the Town Council of the Town of Bloomsburg, and it is hereby ordained and enacted by authority of the same,

ARTICLE 1. That the Market days in the said Town shall be Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week, until eleven o'clock in the forenoon, and that second street from Market street to Iron street, shall be used as the place of Market for the sale and vending of meats, vegetables, fruit, and all other kinds of victuals and provisions whatsoever, and no person or persons shall, during market hours, buy, or cause to be bought in gross, and for the purpose of selling again, any meats, vegetables, fruit, or other articles of marketing whatever, excepting only Flour, Meal, Corn, Wheat, Rye, Oats, or other grains, under a fine or penalty of five dollars for each offence.

ART. 2. That it shall not be lawful for any person or persons whatsoever, the producer or producers of marketing, or their agent, huckster or pedler, to hawk, peddle, or sell, in any street, or alley, or in any part of said Town, any article of produce or provisions for family use, other than fresh fish and oysters at any other time and place, than the time and place or places designated herein, or hereafter designated by Town authority, under a fine of five dollars for each offence. Provided, however, that butchers and others having attended the market with their wagons, be allowed to peddle meat after market hours on market days.

ART. 3. If any person shall sell or expose to sale within the limits of the town of Bloomsburg, any pork, mutton, beef, lamb, veal, poultry, fish, oysters, or any other article of food diseased, tainted, blown, stale, or unwholesome, or in any manner rendered unfit for use, or any veal which when killed shall not have been of the age of four weeks, such article shall be forfeited to the Town, and the offender or offenders, on conviction, shall forfeit and pay a fine of five dollars for each offence.

ART. 4. Each and every person or persons with wagons, sleds, or other vehicles containing articles for market, shall be required during market hours to back up to the pavement on the South side of said Second street, from the first day of April until the first day of October in each year, and from the first day of October to the first of April, on the North side of said street, in such manner as not to obstruct the crossings, nor the traveling in the street, and every person found violating the directions of this article shall, on conviction, forfeit and pay a fine of one dollar for each and every offence.

ART. 5. All articles of marketing exposed for sale within the limits of said Town which shall, or may be found deficient in weight or measure by the President of the Town Council, or other duly authorized person or persons, shall be seized and forfeited for the use of the Town.

Passed April 8, 1872.

E. MENDENHALL,
President of the Town Council.
ATTEST:—F. C. EYER, Secretary.

Democratic County Convention.

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of the Rules for the governance of the Democratic party of the County of Columbia, adopted December 26, 1870, a Convention to elect a Representative Delegate to the State Democratic Convention to be held in Reading on the 29th day of May, 1872, and to choose Senatorial Conferees to meet similar Conferees from the counties of Lycoming, Sullivan and Montour, will be held at the Court House, in the Town of Bloomsburg, on TUESDAY, the 14th day of May, 1872, at 2 P. M.

The election of Delegates to the said County Convention will be held on SATURDAY, the 11th day of May, 1872, between the hours of three and seven P. M., at the usual voting places. Delegates to be voted for as prescribed by the amended rules.

By order Democratic Standing Committee,
C. G. BARKLEY, Chairman.

LOCAL.

THE subscription accounts of H. L. Dieffenbach having been purchased by C. B. Brockway, settlement of the same will be made to him, instead of C. W. Miller, as heretofore.

IN an Indiana county hogs are quoted as selling at two cents per pound. Wonder on what they feed hogs in Indiana.

By a typographical error last week Mr. M. P. Lutz was made to say that he had for sale calicoes at 17½ cents per yd. The price should have been 12½ cents.

On Monday last Rev. Mr. Hewitt and family moved into the apartments set aside for their use in the Normal School Buildings.

As a matter of information we should like to know what kind of time the town clock keeps. It does not agree with the sun, nor the railroad chronometers, nor the watches of our townsmen. What is it?

We have received the first number of a German paper, the Hazleton Volksblatt published at Hazleton by Moore & Sanders. What we have read of it was very interesting. The paper speaks well for the enterprise of its publishers.

Montour County seems to claim the Republican nominee for Congressman. The Montour American hoists the name of Dr. J. D. Strawbridge and the Independent favors J. W. Comly Esq.

On Friday evening last Mr. Charles Johnson of Light Street, was run away with on Main Street and spilled out near Brown's Hotel. He was not injured nor was his horse who was caught at the Forks Hotel. The shafts of the buggy were broken.

Four young foxes, were sold at the "Curb-stone Market" of Tuesday last for $1.25 each. This is a new kind of live stock. If these little fellows were not so passionately fond of chickens they would be worth keeping for pets.

This is the season when paint and white-wash are in universal demand, and the artists in both of these materials find plenty of employment. It is remarkable how much the appearance of buildings can be improved by a judicious application of either white lead or lime.

We have not heard of any trout fishing as yet and are led to believe that the weather has been too cold for them to bite—too cold to be hungry you know. Perhaps they get colds in their heads, in which case we can understand their want of appetite.

After a day of balmy softness the erratic weather-clerk changed the temperature in the most abrupt way, and the overcoats which had been laid aside were once more brought into requisition. Market gardeners and lovers of early vegetables were highly disgusted of course.

Capt. C. B. Brockway is suffering with severe inflammation of the eyes, which prevents his attending to any business. He is recovering, though somewhat slowly, and hopes to be in condition in the course of a week or two. He has however gone to Philadelphia under treatment at the Infirmary.

The mason work of the new Hotel building has been pushed forward so vigorously that the front foundation walls have been completed. Mr. Sterner evidently means business and deserves commendation for his energy. A large force of masons is employed.

"Aly" Bogart was arrested and bound over to appear at May Court by Esquire Moore of Buckhorn, on Friday last, charged with beating his wife. Poswell Fulk became his security. Bogart is already under $500 bail for a similar offence, Israel Heller and William Giger being his bondsmen.

Dr. F. Fleshutt of Laporte, Sullivan County was robbed on Friday last in Philadelphia of his wallet containing some $30,000 in stocks, bonds &c. besides $45 in cash. The report states that he fell in with a party of nice young men at the Opera, upon whose sudden disappearance he missed his money.

AN exchange states that 'the Memphis banks are overflowing with the root of all evil." As the "love of money" is said to be this root we should like to know where the paper gets its authority for so outrageous an assault upon the bank officers of that city, and also whether such officers are more avaricious than elsewhere in the State of Tennessee.

A Coroner's Inquest was held last Sunday at Rupert on the body of a little girl named Eva Cronen who died quite suddenly the day before. Her mother charged Dennis Donovan the child's step father with having kicked the child in such a manner as to have caused death. The post mortem examination made by Drs. Reber and Turner failed to discover any external marks of violence, and a verdict of death from congestion of the brain was rendered, the Drs. having stated that as the cause of death.

SIX children in Mill Hollow a few days ago, while hunting artichokes, came across poison hemlock, which being palatable to their taste was eaten freely, the result of which was they were all taken sick and two died before medical aid could arrive, the other four will get well.—Record of the Times.

SPRING chickens not heavy in weight but very much so as regards price are quoted in neighboring towns. We have seen none as yet in our markets and under the above conditions are not anxious to do so.

UNDER the warm sun of the past few days the wheat fields have taken a famous start and now look bright and green. Considering the difficulties under which the grain has labored for many weeks the prospect is unexpectedly reassuring.

ALL things point to Spring at last. The tramps are on the move; the organ grinders have made their appearance; even a wandering pedler or two has turned up. All these choice blessings which nature vouchsafes to us with the buds and flowers and birds, unite to proclaim the advent of brighter and warmer days.

The Scranton Times says it is no wonder that hundreds of people in Hyde Park are sick, as near by, in an excavation in the ground, are twenty dead hogs, who died from hog cholera, and were thrown into the hole, there to lie and rot, and breed pestilence and death. This looks as though that neglected locality needed a Board of Health.

The blackbirds in Minnesota have increased to such an extent that they have become nuisances and the inhabitants are investing heavily in strychnine for poisoning them. The West seems to have absorbed most of the birds of late years and they are growing more scarce in this region every season.

The grading of Third Street has begun and the work will be expedited as much as possible, as it is required to be done within thirty days from the 17th inst. Main Street is greatly in need of the same attention, as its hills and valleys are more numerous than is either pleasant or sightly. We trust that this, the main artery of travel through our town may be speedily placed in proper condition.

A singular fact in relation to small pox has been recently stated in a Boston Court. The city physician cites several cases of the disease where the patients had been afflicted in a similar manner before. This knocks all the satisfaction out of having recovered from the disease; because it has always been thought impossible to have it a second time. People who have gone through the ordeal will take notice and not crow over their neighbors who have not had it.

THE CANAL.—Superintendent Owen, of Berwick, informs us that the water will be let into the North Branch Canal Thursday night. The canal will then be ready for use in a very short time and boats will commence running at once. The indications are that the season will prove exceptionally lucrative to boatmen, and that the freights will reach a larger figure than ever before.—Scranton Republican.

Mr. Sylvester Fox of this town whilst driving to Espy on Monday evening met with an accident near Troup's bridge over the canal, by which he was severely bruised about the face and head. His horses, took fright, it is said from the noise caused by a passing train, and darted from the road into the canal. Mr. Fox jumped from the buggy and received the injuries named. The buggy was badly broken but the horses escaped without serious injury.

Certain Radical journals are grumbling at the expenses of the McClure-Gray contested election committee and charging Mr. Buckalew with the responsibility of the amounts. This is all very pretty, but if it had not been for Radical rottenness and corruption there would have been no Committee nor any contest. Virtuous editors of the Radical persuasion had better devote their growlings to the proper persons, those whose rascality compelled the formation of the Committee.

It does seem a little unjust that men should be compelled to remove their hats at places of public amusement under pain of abuse by the audience and interference of the police, and yet women can attend these exhibitions with their hair heaped a couple of feet above the tops of their heads, and no one can say them nay. These modern head-dresses obscure more of the stage than twice their number of hats. Top-knot come down.

THE Luzerne county Democratic Convention met in Wilkes Barre on Tuesday last and recommended Hon. Hendrick B. Wright for Governor, Asa R. Brundage and F. W. Gunster as Senatorial delegates and Charles L. Lamberton, John Nealon, George W. Search and Dr. A. L. Cressler as Represenative delegates to the State Convention. Geo. Sanderson was recommended as a delegate at large to the Constitutional Convention. The delegates to the State Convention were instructed to support Chief Justice Thompson for re-nomination.

A cow whose curiosity or appetite exceeded her discretion placed herself in an uncomfortable and ludicrous position, lately, in the neighbohrood of the post-office. She had been investigating the contents of a barrel which stood on a vacant lot near by and by some means fastened it securely to her head. With this absurd head dress she danced (a cow-tillion probably) into the public highway. Numerous persons went to her relief but it was only after some time and much exertion that she was relieved from her unpleasant situation. It was the first live beef we ever saw barrelled.

THE roosters who reside in the neighborhood of our sanctum are certainly weak minded. These absurd birds burst forth into crowing of the most exuberant kind at odd hours of the night and the effect which is produced on their hearers, who are just thinking of retiring, is most peculiar, something of the "Won't go home 'till morning" feeling. The truth is that chickens are the stupidest creatures on earth and we have no doubt that every hen who lays an egg is a great deal more astonished to see it than is any one else, not having the faintest idea how it got there.

Several persons are said to have been injured at Apalachicola by the explosion of a negro who carelessly drank some water after eating half a peck of dried apples.—Ex.

The newspapers do occasionally contain statements of very dubious veracity but we are inclined to think there may be truth in the above. It is perfectly well known that dried apples when wet will swell and if that colored person only ate enough of them and drank sufficient water afterward we cannot see why he should'nt burst. What was to hinder him? The fact of by-standers being injured is merely corroborative; they must have been more or less hurt by a fellow going to pieces in that violent way. Odd case, though, isn't it.

Acting under a severe pressure of duty, we absolutely wasted a quarter of an hour this week endeavoring to decide whether a "Dolly Varden" of the most vigorous style was a stair carpet or a dress pattern. The figures on it were a little large for a carpet but the stuff looked too heavy for a dress, so between the two we did not arrive at any satisfactory conclusion and have'nt yet. If it was a dress it must be very pretty two or three miles distant when seen through a telescope. If it was a stair carpet it won't need any camphor to keep moths out, for no sane insect of that persuasion would alight on it.

Saturday last was the first day of the newly instituted "curb-stone market" and it was a success. There was a general attendance of purchasers and the trade was a brisk one. We have no doubt that this market will prove a great convenience to our citizens, especially if the dealers will provide themselves with articles which are usually more or less scarce, such as butter for instance. This highly prized lubricator of the esophagus was not to be found in any great quantity and thereby divers persons were disappointed.

Provide provisions purveyors and please purchasers.

THE names of the two men mentioned in last week's COLUMBIAN as having been drowned at Wapwollopen were John Belin, son of the superintendent of the Powder works, and Silas Smith, a teamster. The boat in which they were crossing the river was so loaded as to allow the water to rush in, frightening the horses and leading to the upsetting of the craft. Two hundred dollars reward has been offered by Belin's father for the recovery of his son's body, and the Messrs. Dupont offer $100 for the body of either Belin or Smith. Up to this writing we have not heard of the finding of the bodies. A careful watch is kept at the Berwick bridge but it is probable that the current has carried them further down the river.

At a meeting of the Town Council on Wednesday of last week, all of the members recently elected, with the exception of W. B. Koons, took the oath of office. The following resolution was adopted.

Resolved: That it is inexpedient and improper for the Town Council of the Town of Bloomsburg to appoint any one of its own members to any position or post of profit either in its own organization on in the carrying on of any general or local improvement.

E. C. Barton was elected Street Commissioner. Adjourned until Tuesday April 23d.

Counsel met on Tuesday pursuant to adjournment. Mr. Judah Boone presented a paper asking for the prohibiting of the running at large of cattle in the town and requested that an ordinance to that effect be drawn. Mr. Koons, who was appointed a Committee to ascertain the price of Hook and Ladder Truck reported price $1000. W. B. Koons member elect, declined to serve as member of Council.

Communicated.

LOCUST TOWNSHIP INSTITUTES.

These institutes were organized by the school directors of said township, and have been successfully conducted for three winter terms of school. The objects in view have been the advancement and encouragement of the teacher in his profession. Both of these have been accomplished. We have carefully watched the proceedings of the institutes and marked the results in the school-room. Therefore we do not hesitate to make the above assertion. Formerly, it was thought any person could obtain a school in Locust township and we are sorry to have to acknowledge the truth of the assertion, in a great degree. But since the organization of teacher's institutes, the uneducated and undisciplined have gradually been removed, and their places filled by more competent persons. At present we can boast of as good a corps of teachers as any township in the County.

That the teachers are encouraged and appreciate the wisdom and generosity of their directors is manifest by a piece read before the teachers and quite a number of the citizens at Kerntown, March 16. We have no room for comments here.

At the same time a Counting-house Dictionary was awarded, by the teachers, to Haines Yost for spelling correctly the greatest number of words out of a hundred selected by Mr. M. W. Nuss of Bloomsburg. The exercise was interesting and beneficial. We cannot close this article without expressing our sincere thanks to the school-board who have done so nobly during the past three years in encouraging teachers, building school houses and advancing the cause of education in various ways. We earnestly hope the board who are about to take their places will consider well the success of their predecessors, and the cause thereof, and continue the good work until Locust township shall stand among the first as an educational community. H.

"BACK-LOG STUDIES."

Another of these charming papers by Warner, who has been called "Charles Lamb's new rival" appears in the May Scribner's. Warner himself calls this statement of his Publishers who quoted it from the New York Mail, "Your circular attack on Charles Lamb." Probably no series of papers published for years has attracted so much attention and elicited so much praise.

We have been reading of late prophesies as to the weather of the coming summer but have found the most diverse opinions expressed. Equally plausible theories are advanced to prove that it will be wet and that it will be dry. A very good authority in Berks county has given his opinion that it is to be a good season for wheat, but many others state the opposite. The fact is, that the only way we have obtained satisfaction is by firmly refusing to believe any of these prophets. We propose to wait till summer comes, when we will know all about it, and so we advise our readers. Weather prophets and almanacs are not worth a button on atmospherical probabilities.

Resolutions.

At a regular meeting of Catawissa Lodge No. 328 I. O. of G. T. held April 15th, 1872 the following preamble and resolutions were adopted.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God in his infinite wisdom to call unto himself our beloved sister Mrs. Harriet Ellis, and

Whereas, The husband by her death has lost a kind, loving, and affectionate wife, the lodge and church an earnest and faithful member, and a large circle of acquaintances a devoted friend, therefore be it

Resolved, That in our departed sister we always found a loving and devoted friend, whose amiable disposition and many virtues endeared her to all who knew her; and that whilst we deeply mourn her loss we rejoice that we are able to bear testimony to the Christian life of our beloved sister and her final glorious triumph over the last enemy.

Resolved, That while we bow submissive to the will of our Heavenly Father we are assured that He who doeth all things has only had in mind, in this affliction, the eternal good of our departed sister and of us who remain, and that therefore we would not sorrow as those without hope; but, looking forward to a happy reunion in His Glorious Kingdom, accept this admonition of the shortness and uncertainty of this life, and of the necessity of doing with our might the will of our Father while it is called to-day.

Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the family of our late sister feeling assured that He who has called her away from earth to brighter scenes above will also bind up the broken heart, and wipe away the tears of sorrow.

Resolved, That the charter of the lodge and officers regalia be draped in mourning for twenty days, and that a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased and that they be published in the county papers.

Gossip With Our Readers.

Tact has been defined as "ready power of appreciating and doing what is required by circumstances," but the definition might have been so extended as to have read, "also an ability to foresee and avoid disagreeable subjects, combined with a skill to do just what is expedient and proper when unavoidable." It is the choicest gift to man and about the rarest. There is no limit to be placed to the power of this extraordinary faculty, either in the business or social world. It is more successful than genius, more potent than riches; it makes friends where all else fails and converts bitter enemies into enthusiastic admirers. It has placed men in the highest ranks, in love, war, wealth and power. It has saved the lives and lands of its possessors, and carried them unscathed through the turbulent storms of persecutions and revolutions. The majority of men do not exhibit tact or at best in but a limited way, and there are thousands who have it not at all. As has been said of them "If one were so unfortunate as to have lost a near relative by hanging they would persist in discussing the question of capital punishment;" in other words if there were any subject peculiarly unpleasant to you and which you heartily wished to avoid, that would be the one their ill luck and blindness would lead them to discourse upon. Tact enables one to steer clear of the shoals and quicksands of conversational intercourse and to avoid touching upon sore points which no man's life is without; to say the right word at the right time and to say the wrong word at no time; to humor the peculiarities of one's friends and acquaintance whilst maintaining one's own independence and honesty. There is no deception, no hypocrisy, no assuming of virtues when you have them not, but a practical carrying out of the Golden Rule. "Do unto others as you would they should do unto you." Tact is impossible to many, perhaps most men. It is to a great extent an inborn faculty, requiring, however, constant, watchful, study of men, carefulness in speech and a quick perception of the fitness of things. But this watchfulness and care will do much to create it when none exists. It will at least save the grosser offences against good taste and good breeding which we daily observe; it will teach consideration for others and in so far as it is made the guiding principle of life, so far will it advance the interests and ensure the success of him who practices it.

Men of inferior ability have, as History has shown time after time, attained positions to which their abilities would hardly have entitled them by the prudent exercise of tact and judgment. As a power in the world tact ranks high above genius, wealth or place. With tact either of the three proves irresistible.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BROWN & JONES.—Who are they—They are an enterprising young firm lately established in Catawissa and from the astonishing amount of Dry Goods they sell it evident that the people are attracted by their low prices. They are in constant receipt of fresh goods from New York. They sell only for cash, giving the buyer every possible advantage derived from this plan. A visit to their store will convince the reader of these facts. n4-tf.

THE TRUE GROUNDS OF CONFIDENCE.—Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and national consequence of experience. What people see daily going under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic, as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect this precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eyewitnesses of the salutary effects of the bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness, to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficent operations.

CASTORIA—a substitute for Castor Oil—a vegetable preparation containing neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. It is pleasant to take, does not nauseate, and operates when all other remedies failed. Dr. Pitcher has experimented fifteen years in producing a preparation more efficient than Castor Oil, without its horrid taste. The Castoria regulates the system; cures constipation, stomach ache, croup and flatulency, and kills worms. It does not distress or gripe. By its quieting, soothing effect it produces natural sleep, and is particularly adapted to crying and teething children.

We desire Physicians to test this article, and will forward three bottles GRATIS to the address of any one so authenticated. Insist that your druggist order it for you. It costs but 50 cents, and one bottle will save many doctor's bills. n16w

Important Testimony!

The following letters are among the many we are constantly receiving from persons who have been cured by

Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup,
Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic,
AND
Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Pennsgrove, Salem County, New Jersey.
FEBRUARY 27, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. corner Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in adding my testimony to that of the many others who have been cured by the efficacy of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Sea Weed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills.

Consumption has been hereditary with my family, most of its members having died of it at early ages. My mother and three brothers died at the age of 31, one brother at 27, and my sister at 13.

I was, when about 31 years, seized with liver complaint, which rapidly developed into Pulmonary Consumption. I was compelled to relinquish my employment (that of a blacksmith.)

I consulted skillful and eminent physicians, and tried many patent nostrums, but without success, so that my friends were sure that there was no hope of my recovery, for I was reduced from 140 pounds to 104, and was not able to do anything without assistance.

By what I now look upon as a Providential interposition, I was induced to try your remedies, and place myself under your treatment, and so rapid and thorough was my recovery, that it seemed as though some superhuman power was at work, and to-day I am as well as at any time during my life. I weigh 152 pounds, am 33 years old and for some time have been regularly attending to my business, bidding fair to live to a good old age.

I am thankful to you beyond expression for having placed me in a position wherein I am a benefit instead of a burden to my family.

Your Mandrake Pills are the only medicine I ever use now. I think they are the best in the world.

I can refer you to hundreds of my neighbors who will verify all I have written, and any information any of my fellow citizens may desire will be freely and gladly given, upon receipt of stamp, by Yours, etc.

JOHN C. HEWITT.

Key West, Fla., Feb. 19, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK, N. E. cor. Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia.

Dear Sir—Please forward, per first steamer, six bottles Sea Weed Tonic and twelve bottles Pulmonic Syrup.

Your medicines are of such value that I cannot be without them in my household, and in fact no family should be without them.

I have given them a fair test, and openly declare them to be even better than you claim.

Very respectfully yours, &c
W. A. WHITEHURST.

PHILADELPHIA, March 4, 1872.

Dr. J. H. SCHENCK,

Respected Sir—I take pleasure in awarding to you this certificate of the wonderful cure your Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic produced. My throat and bronchial tubes were so highly inflamed that it was almost impossible for me to swallow my food.

I am on a visit to my uncle, Mr. Charles Johnson, No. 912 Federal street, who says your medicines raised him from almost death after all other means had failed, and he having, therefore, full confidence in the virtue of your remedies, strongly recommended me to try them. I did so, and in one week from the time I commenced taking them my throat underwent a very great change for the better, so that I could eat my meals without any difficulty or pain. I can scarcely find words to express my gratitude for the early relief your invaluable medicines produced upon me, and I deem it but an act of gratitude to give you the acknowledgement of my appreciation. Yours respectfully,
RACHEL M. JACOBS.
No. 436 West Thirty-third street, New York.

SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP,
SEA WEED TONIC,
and MANDRAKE PILLS.

These are the only medicines that will cure Pulmonary Consumption. Dr. Schenck has been in constant practice over thirty years continually examining lungs, and knows his medicines, if properly taken, will cure Consumption. His Mandrake Pills cleanse the liver and stomach; his Sea Weed Tonic dissolves the food, stimulates the coating of the stomach, and makes it digest. His Pulmonic Syrup ripens the matter, and nature throws it off without any exertion.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea Weed Tonic, $1,25 per bottle, or $7 00 per half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents per box.

A MELANCHOLY BREAK-DOWN.—There are lively break-downs that make an audience laugh, and there are sad and sorrowful break-downs that make the kind-hearted grieve. To the latter class belongs the enervation of body and mind which is usually called "general debility," or "nervous weakness," and which, when neglected, too often terminates in atrophy and death. A wholesome medicated stimulant is the one thing needed in cases of this description, and science and experience unite in pointing to PLANTATION BITTERS as the true specific. The fact that it combines the properties of an invigorant with those of a regulator and alterative, in exactly the proportions necessary to produce a radical change in the tone of the system, and the action of the digestive and secretive organs, is an unanswerable argument in its favor as a general restorative.

COURT PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, the Hon. William Elwell, President Judge of the Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery, Court of Quarter Sessions of the Peace and Court of Common Pleas and Orphan's Court in the 26th Judicial District, composed of the counties of Columbia, Sullivan and Wyoming, and the Hon. Iram Derr and Isaac S. Monroe Associate Judges of Columbia county have issued their precept, bearing date the 17th day of February, in the year of our Lord, one thousand, eight hundred and seventy-one, and to me directed for holding a Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Quarter Sessions of the Peace Court of Common Pleas and Orphan's Court, in Bloomsburg, in the county of Columbia, on the first Monday, being the 6th day of May next, to continue one week.

Notice is hereby given, to the Coroner, to the Justices of the Peace, and the Constables of the said county of Columbia, that they be then and there in their proper person at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said 6th day of May with their records, inquisitions and other remembrances, to do those things which to their offices appertain to be done. And those that are bound by recognizance, to prosecute against the prisoners that are or may be in the jail of the said county of Columbia, to be then and there to prosecute them as shall be just. Jurors are requested to be punctual in their attendance, agreeably to their notices. Dated at Bloomsburg, the 5th day of April, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-two and in the ninety fifth year of the Independence of the United States of America.

Noxious Insects

Young cabbage plants, after being transplanted, are frequently cut off at the stem by a black grub, which lodges in the ground. Whenever that is observed, search around the root of the plants, cut off, and you will find the grub a quarter of an inch under the surface, and kill it. If it is not there, it will be on the plant next to it, and near by there will be another. They are always in pairs, and near to each other.

There is a small black flea in vast numbers, which eats off the leaves of young cabbages, both when they just come up from seeds and after being transplanted. If the plants are lightly dusted over with fresh slacked lime for two mornings; while they are wet with dew, the lime will kill or drive off the fleas, and the plants will thrive.

There is a greenish, mealy louse that attacks cabbages when half, or nearly full grown, frequently covering the whole plant. A dusting of fresh lime, for two mornings, over the plants while wet with dew, will kill all the intruders.

A large, green grub, with black bands around its body, which devours the leaves of carrots, celery, parsnip and parsley. It is slow in motion, and can be gathered with the hands and be killed.

All kinds of fruit trees should have their stems washed now with a strong solution of carbolic soap and water. It will kill borers and cut-worms, and if the heads of the trees are syringed with a weaker solution of the carbolic soap and water, insects will not be apt to attack them. Another syringing of the heads of the trees, after the fruits are set, may keep off the "curcullo" from plum and peach trees. The cause of failures in keeping off insects is that remedies are not persevered in a sufficiently long time. A man standing upon a pair of steps ten feet high can syringe over trees twenty feet high.—W. E. in Journal of the Farm.

Pastures for Horses.

Winter or Summer, except in stormy times, there is no place so comfortable for colts or tired work-horses as a good pasture lot. To tie up a tired horse at night, in a narrow cell, with a plank floor to stand on, is a species of cruelty that civilization should be ashamed of. If the poor animal must be confined like a convict in a dungeon, for pity's sake let him have his head, and give him at least twelve feet square, with a soft, dry floor to stand or lie on. In the large cities land is worth more in money than horses are, but on the farm there is no excuse for such economy. Ask the horse what he wants, and he will tell you that a place where he can walk around, lie down and stretch his tired limbs, and roll over from one side to the other, gives him more ease and comfort after a day of hard work, than the most costly plank stall, with all the accompaniments of curry-comb, stiff bristled brushes, rubber-cloths and dexterous hostlers that can be produced.

Corn Planting.—As the winter has been long and dry, the probabilities are that we will have a wet summer. Such seems to be the opinion of many persons who have given attention to the science and history of the weather. This being so, it behooves our farmers to take the matter into serious consideration. High and well drained corn grounds should be selected, instead of that which is low and marshy. In dry seasons the latter are preferable, but in wet seasons the former ought by all means to be chosen. The same rule will apply to the sowing of oats and other spring grains. It has been ascertained that a certain quantity of moisture, in the shape of rain and snow, falls every year from the clouds to the earth, and as a wet spring and summer are almost invariably followed by a dry fall and winter, so a dry fall and winter is sure to be the harbinger of a wet spring and summer. The converse of a proposition is as true as the proposition itself. Let our farmers, therefore, look out where they sow their oats, barley and buckwheat this spring, as a wet spring and summer is certainly before them, there having been comparatively little snow and rain during the winter that is now passed.—Allentown Democrat.

Value of Old Bones.—A great deal, but none too much, has been written concerning the value of bones for fertilizing. For this purpose a fair estimate places their worth at five cents per pound. But to obtain this profit from them their preparation must involve as little labor as possible. The best plan with the small annual accumulations of a careful farmer is to break them in a cast-iron trough with a heavy pestle hung from a spring-pole and worked by hand. Break the bones fine and put them in old casks in alternate layers with fresh horse manure and keep saturated with liquid; cover the top with an inch depth of gypsum or six inches of fine muck. Fermentation will reduce the bones to a comminuted or friable state, and the free ammonia that would otherwise escape will be caught and fixed by the top layer of plaster or muck. This will form an extremely rich fertilizer, which should be intimately mingled with from four to eight times its weight of dry earth before being applied to the soil. It will be found excellent either for corn in the hill, garden vegetables, or as top dressing for wheat and other grain—crops for which its large proportion of phosphoric acid peculiarly adapts it.

Sick Horses.

Linseed tea is not only a valuable restorative for horses, but is exceedingly useful in cases of inflammation of the membranes, peculiar to the organs of respiration and digestion; it shields and lubricates the same, tranquilizes the irritable state of the parts and favors healthy action. Put a couple of handfuls of the seed into a bucket and pour a gallon and a half of boiling water upon it. Cover up a short time; then add two quarts of cold water, when it will be ready for use. In cases of an irritating cough add some honey.

Draining.—The cost of draining depends a good deal on the nature of the land and the depth of the drains. In sandy or mucky land a ditch 2½ feet deep for tiles should be dug, with labor at $1.50 per day, for 15 cents a rod; 3 feet deep, 20 cents a rod. On heavier land, nearly free from stones, a ditch 2½ to 3 feet deep will cost 25 cents a rod. A good ditcher, at these prices, can make two dollars a day. An unskillful man that cuts the ditches unnecessarily wide, and is fond of using the pick, might work just as hard and not earn a dollar a day.

Young Folks.

Kameda The Indian Princess.

There was a log block-house, across the river, built by the early settlers, for their protection against the savages. There were port-holes in every side through which pointed the guns that never missed their mark.

After Kameda had warned Phineas Muntin of his danger, she gathered the Indian canoes, that lay along the beach, lashed them together, rowed all to the opposite shore, and hurried up to the black house.

A score of sturdy men sat about the door. The smoke of their pipes circled in waving clouds above them; their cheery laugh rang upon the evening air. They dreamed not of danger.

The dark haired maiden glided into their midst. Gloom shadowed her brow; her eyes flashed fire.

"The white man is doomed," she said. "The Indian loves revenge. His knives are sharp; his fires are hot. When the moon rises the Muntins will die! Oswa has said it; he is a storm in battle. Listin to words of Kameda. The white man is waiting for help; his brothers have strong arms and brave hearts; they will save him."

The men believed the words of Kameda's warning, and sprang to their feet, aghast.

"Quick, to arms!" they cried; and in a moment every man was armed, and ready for the rescue. Then they looked for Kameda, but she was gone. She took the lightest canoe and skimmed the river like a swan. The doomed ones were waiting at the willows.

The boat was sinking; the boat sank! The Indians rushed shrieking into the water and flourished their tomahawks. Glints of moonlight danced upon their knife blades. The wolf was sure of his prey.

The boat sank. The children could not swim; they clung to their father; but he struggled with savages, breast deep in the water. His hands were busy with death!

Kameda caught the babe in her arms; Oswa was foremost; he snatched the child from her and hurled it away. There was a plash far out in the river; circling waves fled from the spot; little bubbles quivered above it, for a moment and vanished.

Phineas Muntin was mighty in strength; the savages fell before him. He leaped upon Oswa, wrenched the hatchet from his hand, and aimed a blow; but many arms bore him down; the water closed over him!

The dip of oars sounded in the distance; Kameda heard it. A smile of triumph lit her tawny features; she turned madly upon the savages.

"Hold!" she cried, "Kameda commands; her word is mighty. Death to all who dares her vengeance!"

"Cowards listen to the words of a woman!" said Oswa.

His band returned to their work. Fiercely swelled the war-whoop; wild the cry of distress.

Kameda sprang upon Oswa, clasped her arms about his neck; but she struggled with the whirlwind. Her arms were as grass.

"Oswa is a grey haired squaw," she cried. "He makes war with pappooses."

Her words were air; he cast her from him, and raised his hatchet. His eyes were flaming arrows.

The plash of oars came nearer. There was a report of rifles, and then a score of strong men cast themselves upon the startled savages. Help had come to the white man, but it was too late! Death had been there before them. Their hearts burned with rage; they drank vengeance. The noisy echoes fled far out in the forest; they leaped upon the craggy clifts.

Mrs. Muntin lay silent upon the sandy beach. She did not see the moon that shone broad upon her, making still whiter her pallid face; saw not the cruel slaughter of her helpless little ones; heard not the tumult. She was dead!

Kameda was troubled, for she had lost the battle. Vengeance burned, like a flame, in her heart. She glided away, unnoticed, with a living child in her arms: it was Marie Muntin. All the rest had gone with their mother.

Kameda placed little Marie in one of the boats, and paddled swiftly down the river. Under the shadow of overhanging willows she watched by her side; spoke words of comfort.

A Persian Tale.

There was once a prince who, having been much displeased with one of his nobles, determined to punish him. The prince commanded that he should be shut up in a high tower. Into this tower there was only one entrance, which was walled up immediately after the nobleman had been placed there. Thus all hope of escape seemed to be cut off, and the unhappy man was left to perish.

Inside the tower was a long, winding staircase, by which the prisoner reached the top. While looking down from there he observed his wife, who had come indulging a faint hope that she might be able, by some means or other, to aid her husband in escaping from his place of confinement.

On inquiring if she could be of any service to him, he replied, "Oh, yes; go and procure a black beetle, a little grease, a skein of silk, a ball of twine, and a long rope.

The wife hastened to obtain what her husband asked for, wondering, no doubt, at the strangeness of his request. She soon returned, furnished with the things. Her husband then directed her to put the grease on the beetle's head, to fasten the silk to his hind leg, the twine to the silk, and then the rope to the twine, and then to place the beetle on the wall of the tower.

On being set at liberty on the wall, the beetle, smelling the grease on its head, and not being able to discover where it was, crept up the tower in search of it till it arrived at the top. The nobleman caught it, and taking the silk from its hind leg, carefully drew it up. When he came to the end of the silk, he found the twine, and next he came to the rope. Fastening this to a crook, he let himself down, and thus made his escape.

On the through express from Washington to New York city, on the 5th, was a bright little boy, not over five, years, hailing from Fairfax Courthouse, Va., with the following lines fastened securely to his hat:

Strangers, this boy is going to sea,
And expects in N. Y. his father to meet;
Many thanks from the mother of Ikey B,
To those who will see that he keeps his seat.

It is useless to say that the little fellow was well taken care of, and met his father all right.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

A Bitters without Alcohol or Spirits of any kind,

Is different from all others. It is composed of the pure Juices, or Vital Principle of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, (or as medicinally termed Extracts,) the worthless or inert portions of the ingredients not being used. Therefore in one Bottle of this Bitters there is contained as much medicinal virtue as will be found in several gallons of ordinary mixtures. The Roots, &c., used in this Bitters are grown in Germany, their vital principles extracted in that country by a scientific Chemist, and forwarded to the manufactory in this city, where they are compounded and bottled. Containing no spirituous ingredients, this Bitters is free from the objections urged against all others; no desire for stimulants can be induced from their use, they cannot make drunkards, and cannot under any circumstances, have any but a beneficial effect.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Was compounded for those not inclined to extreme bitters, and is intended for use in cases when some alcoholic stimulant is required in connection with the Tonic properties of the Bitters. Each bottle of the Tonic contains one bottle of the Bitters, combined with pure SANTA CRUZ RUM, and flavored in such a manner that the extreme bitterness of the bitters is overcome, forming a preparation highly agreeable and pleasant to the palate, and containing the medicinal virtues of the Bitters. The price of the Tonic is $1.50 per Bottle which many persons think too high. They must take into consideration that the stimulant used is guaranteed to be of a pure quality. A poor article could be furnished at a cheaper price, but is it not better to pay a little more and have a good article? A medicinal preparation should contain none but the best ingredients; and they who expect to obtain a cheap compound, and be benefitted by it will most certainly be cheated.

The whole SUPREME COURT of Pennsylvania

SPEAK FOR THESE REMEDIES.

Who would ask for more Dignified and Stronger Testimony?

Hon. George W. Woodward, former Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, a present Member of Congress from Pennsylvania writes:

PHILADELPHIA, March 16th, 1867.

I find "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of action in the system. Yours truly
GEORGE W. WOODWARD.

Hon. James Thomson, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1867.

I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES THOMSON.

Hon. George Sharswood, Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1, 1868.

I have found by experience that "Hoofland's German Bitters" is a very good tonic, relieving dyspeptic symptoms almost directly.
GEORGE SHARSWOOD.

Hon. Wm. F. Rogers, Mayor of the City of Buffalo, N. Y.

Mayor's Office, Buffalo, June 22, 1869.

I have used "Hooflands German Bitters and Tonic" in my family during the past year, and can recommend them as an excellent tonic, imparting tone and vigor to the system. Their use has been productive of decidedly beneficial effects.
WM. F. ROGERS.

Hon. James M. Wood, Ex-Mayor of Williamsport Pa.

I take great pleasure in recommending "Hoofland's German Tonic" to any one who may be afflicted with Dyspepsia. I had the Dyspepsia so badly it was impossible to keep my food in my stomach, and I became so weak as not to be able to walk half a mile. Two bottles of Tonic effected a perfect cure.
JAMES M. WOOD.

DR. HOOFLAND'S

PODOPHYLLIN,

OR

SUBSTITUTE FOR MERCURY PILLS.

TWO PILLS A DOSE.

The most Powerful, Yet Innocent, Vegetable Cathartic known.

It is not necessary to take a handfull of these Pills to produce the desired effect; two of them act quickly and powerfully, cleansing the Liver, Stomach and Bowels of all impurities. The principle ingredient is Podophyllin, or the Alcoholic Extract of Mandrake, which is by many times more powerful, acting and searching than the Mandrake itself. Its peculiar action is upon the Liver, cleaning it speedily from all obstructions, with all the power of Mercury, yet free from the injurious results attached to the use of that mineral.

For all diseases in which the use of a cathartic is indicated, these pills will give entire satisfaction in every case. They NEVER FAIL.

In cases of Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia and extreme costiveness, Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters or Tonic should be used in connection with the Pills. The tonic effect of the Bitters or Tonic builds up the system. The Bitters or Tonic purifies the Blood, strengthens the Nerves, regulates the Liver, and gives strength, energy and vigor.

Keep your Bowels active with the Pills, and tone up the system with Bitters or Tonic, and no disease can retain the hold, or even assail you.

Recollect that it is DR. HOOFLAND'S GERMAN Remedies that are so universally used and highly recommended; and do not allow the Druggist to induce you to take anything that he may say is just as good, because he makes a larger profit on it.

These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality, upon application to the PRINCIPAL OFFICE, at the GERMAN MEDICINE STORE, 631 Arch St., Philadelphia.

BALTIMORE PIANOS.

We respectfully call the attention of those desiring to purchase our make of Pianos. We are satisfied that we can give satisfaction in every case. Our workmen skillful and experienced and are under the personal superintendence of the members of our firm. We use only the best seasoned timber, and the material in general is first class. Our Pianos without exception have the patent agraffes arrangement throughout, which in the opinion of the most competent judges is pronounced valuable. By this improvement a Piano is made more durable and keeps the tone longer. We claim for our instruments that they are second to none, and they combine all the essential elements that constitute superior workmanship. We will give a written guarantee for five years.

Mr. Conrad Freiman, member of our firm, will visit Bloomsburg four times a year to repair and attend to tuning of all Pianos. In the absence of Mr. Freiman, Mr. I. K. Miller will attend to our business in Bloomsburg and is authorized to receive and solicit orders.

We can give the very best references.

A GREAT MEDICAL [illegible]

Dr. WALKER'S [illegible]

VINEGAR [illegible]

Hundreds of Thousands

Bear testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects.

WHAT ARE THEY?

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal. Send for a circular.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

THEY ARE NOT A VILE

FANCY DRINK.

Made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true Medicine, made from the Native Roots and Herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and A LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to direction and remain long unwell.

$100 will be given for an incurable case, provided the bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys, and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms, are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid liver and bowels, which render them of unequalled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-Worms, Scald-Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the system in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effect.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure and the health of the system will follow.

PIN, TAPE and other WORMS, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. For full directions, read carefully the circular around each bottle, printed in four languages—English, German, French and Spanish.

RHEUMATISM

NEURALGIA

$5000 WILL BE PAID.

To any person producing any Medicine showing half as many living, permanent cures as Dr. Fitler's Vegetable Rheumatic Remedy.—Used inwardly only. A pleasant Medicine, free from injurious drugs. Warranted, under oath, to have permanently cured 95 in every 100 patients treated in the past ten years. (See testimony.) It is the scientific prescription of Professor Jos. P. Fitler, M. D., a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania A. D. 1833,—now one of Philadelphia's oldest regular physicians, and Professor of Chemistry and Toxicology,—who has made Neuralgia, Chronic and Inflammatory Rheumatism the speciality of his entire professional life—a fact vouched for by the signatures accompanying each bottle, of many prominent renowned physicians, clergymen, and other testimonials. To protect sufferers from poisonous quack nostrums and useless expenditure of money, a legal signed guarantee, stating exact number of bottles warranted to cure, will be forwarded gratis to any sufferer sending by letter a full description of affliction. In case of failure to cure, amount paid positively refunded. Medicine sent anywhere by express, collect on delivery. Afflicted invited to write for advice; all information and medical advice sent by letter gratis. Principal office, 29 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, Pa. The Remedy is sold or obtained by Druggists. mar 1'71—ly

COMPOUND FLUID

EXTRACT CATAWBA

GRAPE PILLS.

Component Parts—Fluid Extract Rhubarb and Fluid Extract Catawba Grape

FOR LIVER COMPLAINTS, JAUNDICE, BILIOUS AFFECTIONS, SICK OR NERVOUS HEADACHE, COSTIVENESS, ETC. PURELY VEGETABLE, CONTAINING NO MERCURY MINERALS OR DELETERIOUS DRUGS.

These Pills are the most delightfully pleasant purgative, superseding castor oil, salts, magnesia, etc. There is nothing more acceptable to the stomach. They give tone, and cause neither nausea nor griping pains. They are composed of the finest ingredients. After a few days' use of them, such an invigoration of the entire system takes place as to appear miraculous to the weak and enervated, whether arising from imprudence or disease. H. T. Helmbold's Compound Fluid Extract Catawba Grape Pills are not sugar-coated, from the fact that sugar-coated Pills do not disolve, but pass through the stomach without dissolving, consequently do not produce the desired effect. THE CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS being pleasant in taste and odor, do not necessitate their being sugar-coated. PRICE FIFTY CENTS PER BOX.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S,

HIGHLY CONCENTRATED COMPOUND

FLUID EXTRACT SARSAPARILLA

Will radically exterminate from the system Scrofula, Syphilis, Fever Sores, Ulcers, Sore Eyes, Sore Legs, Sore Mouth, Sore Head, Bronchitis, Skin Diseases, Salt Rheum, Cankers, Runnings from the Ear, White Swellings, Tumors, Cancerous Affections, Nodes, Rickets, Glandular Swellings, Night Sweats, Rash, Tetter, Humors of all Kinds, Chronic Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, and all disease that has been established in the system for years.

Being prepared EXPRESSLY for the above complaints, its BLOOD-PURIFYING properties are greater than any other preparation of Sarsaparilla. It gives the COMPLEXION a clear and healthy color and restores the patient to a state of HEALTH and PURITY. For Purifying the Blood, removing all Chronic Constitutional Diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood And the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Blotches, Pimples on the Face, Erysipelas and all scaly Eruptions of the Skin, and Beautifying the Complexion. Price, $1.50 per Bottle.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S

CONCENTRATED

FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU,

THE GREAT DIURETIC,

has cured every case of Diabetes in which it has been given, Irritation of the neck of the Bladder and Inflammation of the Kidneys, Ulceration of the Kidneys and Bladder, Retention of Urine Diseases of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculs, Gravel, Brickdust Deposit, and Mucous or Milky Discharges, and for Enfeebled and Delicate Constitutions of both Sexes, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, loss of Power, loss of Memory Difficulty of Breathing, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Horror of Disease, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Pain in the Back, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Eruption on the Face, Pallid Countenance, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, etc.

Used by persons from the ages of eighteen to twenty-five, and from thirty-five to fifty-five or in the decline or change of life; after confinement or labor pains; bed-wetting in children

Helmbold's Extract Buchu is Diuretic and Blood-Purifying, and cures all diseases arising from Habits of Dissipation, and Excesses and Imprudences in Life, Impurities of the Blood, etc., superseding Copabia in affections for which it is used, and Syphilitic Affections—in these diseases used in connection with HELMBOLD ROSE WASH.

LADIES.

In many affections peculiar to ladies, the Extract Buchu is unequalled by any other remedy—as in Chlorosis or Retention, Irregularity, Painfulness or Suppression of Customary Evacuations, Ulcerated or Schirrus State of the Uterus Leucorrhœa or Whites, Sterility, and for all complaints incident to the sex, whether arising from Indiscretion or Habits of Dissipation. It is prescribed extensively by the most eminent physicians and Midwives for Enfeebled and Delicate Constitutions, of both sexes and all ages (attended with any of the above diseases or symptoms in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It causes a frequent desire, and gives strength to Urinate, thereby removing Obstructions, Preventing and Curing Strictures of the Uretha, Allaying Pain and Inflammation, so frequent in this class of diseases, and expelling all Poisonous matter.

H. T. HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

Thousands who have been the victims of incompetent persons, and who have paid heavy fees to be cured in a short time, have found they have been deceived, and that the "Poison" has, by the use of "powerful astringents," been dried up in the system, to break out in a more aggravated form, and perhaps after Marriage.

Use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU for all Affections and Diseases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in Male or Female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. PRICE ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS PER BOTTLE.

HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH

cannot be surpassed as a FACE WASH, and will be found the only specific remedy in every species of CUTANEOUS AFFECTION. It speedily eradicates PIMPLES, SPOTS, SCORBUTIC DRYNESS, INDURATIONS of the CUTANEOUS MEMBRANE, etc., dispels REDNESS and INCIPIENT INFLAMATION, HIVES, RASH MOTH PATCHES, DRYNESS OF SCALP or SKIN, FROST BITES, and all purposes for which SALVES or OINTMENTS are used; restores the skin to a state of purity and softness, and insures continued healthy action to the tissue of its vessels, on which depend the agreeable clearness and vivacity of complexion so much sought and admired. But however valuable as a remedy for existing defects of the skin, H. T. Helmbold's Rose Wash has long sustained its principle claim to unbounded patronage, by possessing qualities which render it a TOILET APPENDAGE of the most Superlative and Congenial character, combining in an elegant formula those prominent requisits, SAFETY and EFFICACY—the invariable accompaniments of its use—as a Preservative and Refresher of the Complexion. It is an excellent Lotion for diseases of a Syphilitic Nature, and as an injection for diseases of the Urinary Organs, arising from habits of dissipation, used in connection with the EXTRACTS BUCHU, SARSAPARILLA, and CATAWBA GRAPE PILLS, in such diseases as recommended, cannot be surpassed. PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER BOTTLE.

Full and explicit directions accompany the medicines.

Evidence of the most responsible and reliable character furnished on application, with hundreds of thousands of living witnesses, and upward of 30,000 unsolicited certificates and recommendatory letters, many of which are from the highest sources, including eminent Physicians, Clergymen, Statesmen, etc. The proprietor has never resorted to their publication in the newspapers; he does not do this from the fact that his articles rank as Standard Preparations, and do not need to be propped up by certificates.
